Fu Jen University College of Foreign Languages Guidelines for the Establishment of the Plum Blossom Scholarship for Low Income Students

Passed by the 5rd College of Foreign Languages Management Meeting in the Second Semester of 2015 academic year on April 29, 2016

Passed by the 3rd College of Foreign Languages Management Meeting in the First Semester of 2015 academic year on September 24, 2015

Passed by the College of Foreign Languages Management Camp in the First Semester of the 2015 academic year on August 12, 2015

- I. Purpose: To give back to Fu Jen University and encourage students of low-income backgrounds who display diligence in academic study, Angela Fu (alumnus from the 8th graduating class in the Japanese Department) has established the Plum Blossom Scholarship for Low Income Students.
- II. Source of funding: A one-time donation of US$5,000 in the name of Angela Fu
- III. Scholarship Amount: NT$20,000 per student per academic year
- IV. Number of Recipients: To be announced each academic year by the College of Foreign Languages
- V. Application Window: Suggestion should be supplied from each Department to the Office of the Secretary before the Management Meeting in October of the first semester of each academic year.
- VI. Eligibility:
Low-income students currently enrolled at the College of Foreign Languages who display diligence in academic study
- VII. Required Documentation:
 1. Application Form
 2. Self-introduction
 3. Official documentation from the National Taxation Bureau of Taiwan detailing one complete year of individual income tax for all family members
 4. Students with disabilities should supply any additional disability information when submitting the application
 5. Household Registration Transcript for all family members (Household Register not accepted)
 6. One (1) letter of recommendation from an advisor or teacher
 7. Transcripts from the previous academic year
- VIII. Review Process: Review will place primary emphasis on family background and academic performance. Disabled students who satisfy those two conditions will be given first consideration. After official review by each Department, suggested recipients will be reported to the College of Foreign Languages; these suggestions will then be reviewed by the Management Meeting of the College of Foreign Languages, who will make the final selection of recipients.
- IX. Information included in the application of this scholarship will not be returned to applicants.
- X. After the official declaration of the recipients, each recipient must send a letter of thanks to the benefactor of the scholarship (i.e., Angela Fu).
- XI. Previous recipients of this scholarship may not apply; if circumstances warrant, previous recipients may petition the College for the right to re-apply, which will be decided by the Management Meeting.
- XII. These Guidelines have been passed by the Management Meeting of the College of Foreign Languages and will be announced and made effective upon the approval of the University President. Any amendments to the Guidelines will be announced and made effective in similar fashion.
